

CENTRE FOR POLICIES, LAWS, AND AGENDA, NUSRL

presents

2ND NATIONAL BLOG WRITING COMPETITION

Vice Chancellor's Message

The questions of immigration and refugee protection stand at the heart of constitutional values, human rights, and global justice.

In the Indian context, these issues are deeply intertwined with our democratic ethos, international obligations, and the need for comprehensive legal reform.

The 2nd National Blog Writing Competition on the theme “Immigration and Refugee Law Reforms in India” provides a platform for students and young scholars to critically engage with one of the most pressing challenges of our times. By encouraging accessible, research-based writing, this competition aims to foster informed debate, fresh perspectives, and meaningful dialogue on policy reforms that can shape a more just and inclusive legal framework.

At NUSRL, Ranchi, we are committed to nurturing future-ready professionals who can combine legal knowledge with social responsibility. This initiative reflects that commitment and offers participants an opportunity to contribute to the evolving discourse on immigration and refugee law in India, while honing their ability to communicate complex legal ideas with clarity and purpose.

Prof. (Dr.) Ashok R. Patil
Vice Chancellor, NUSRL

About the University

National University of Study and Research in Law (NUSRL), Ranchi, established by Act No. 4 of Jharkhand State Assembly in 2010, embodies the vision of our constitutional forefathers who recognized law's crucial role in human, social, political, and economic development. As a premier legal institution, NUSRL acknowledges law as a vital social process that strengthens democracy and constitutional rule of law. In the 21st century, India's rich legal heritage guides the institution in catalyzing constitutional goals and establishing India's position among developed nations.

About the Centre

The Centre for Policies, Laws and Agenda (CPLAN), established in 2023 at NUSRL Ranchi, is dedicated to advancing research and dialogue on issues at the intersection of law, policy, and governance. Through initiatives such as drafting programmes, blog writing competitions, workshops, and research activities, CPLAN provides a platform for students and scholars to engage critically, develop essential skills, and contribute to meaningful reforms. With its interdisciplinary approach, the Centre aspires to foster innovation, informed debate, and socially responsible scholarship for a just and progressive society.
